Security

For those looking for a new career path or professionals seeking advanced skills, security courses provide the training required for a non-commissioned security officer in the State of Texas across a range of specialized areas. Online course curriculum is approved by the Texas Private Security Bureau for a variety of certifications including public safety supervisor, infrastructure protection and school safety for managing critical incidents in higher education such as violence prevention and sport event risk management. The training encompasses the roles and responsibilities of security officers, legal aspects of security work, security communications, and response to emergencies and safety hazards. Security courses provide individuals and public and private sector organizations with skills to improve safety, security and effective community response to threat incidence. TEEX is licensed by the Texas Private Security Bureau as a Class F, Level III, Training School.

Read More

Ask The Experts

Ask The Experts is here to help with any questions you may have concerning rules and regulation or business questions you may have.

Ask The Experts

STAY CONNECTED: